Past performance is no guarantee of future results and is not constant over time.

Performances are calculated by comparing the net asset value at the end of the period to that at the beginning of the period. The figures shown are calculated in the reference currency of the share class. They are calculated after deduction of all charges, with the exception of any entry/exit charges. Net figures do not take account of taxes applicable to the average retail individual client in their country of residence. When the currency shown differs from the client's currency, there is a currency risk that can result in a decrease in value.

MANAGEMENT TEAM COMMENT

Despite a shortage of economic data due to the ongoing shutdown, the Fed cut its key rates by 25bp. However, in his speech, Jerome Powell used the absence of data - which he likened to "driving in the fog" - to temper expectations of an upcoming rate cut in December, which seemed to have been priced in. The other central banks (ECB, BOJ) left their rates unchanged. With regard to tariffs, Beijing's export restrictions on rare earths led Trump to react, announcing a 100% increase in tariffs before reaching an agreement on 30 October covering soybeans, fentanyl, etc. The Chinese Communist Party plenum clearly highlighted the need for political support to achieve 5% growth and an even greater focus on technological self-sufficiency. Finally, the first earnings publications for the third quarter were fairly positive. In the United States, of the 65% of companies that published results, 83% exceeded expectations. The European indices ended the month higher (Euro Stoxx 50 +2.4%) but, like the previous month, the US indices stood out (S&P 500 +4.3% and Nasdaq +6.9%), driven by mega-investments in artificial intelligence, which reached trillions of dollars. Lastly, gold reached new highs and gained 3.7% over the month. Against this backdrop, the fund ended the month up 1.21%. The best contribution came from the gold tracker (26bps), which has benefited fully from the gold rally over the past three months. The equity allocation (+85bp) was driven by the performance of the US market and mainly Nasdaq technology stocks. We trimmed our position on the MDax and switched to a pharmaceutical ETF, as this sector has lagged in performance and is more defensive. On the bond side, we switched the Algebris fund on subordinated financial debt for corporate hybrids.
