FUND MANAGER'S MONTHLY REPORT

In the space of a few weeks, investors' fears have shifted and are now more focused on the recession than on interest rates. The flattening of bond curves, the deterioration in confidence surveys and GDP figures in the second quarter all point to a sharp slowdown in the global economy. The United States is, moreover, officially in a technical recession after two quarters of negative GDP growth (-0.9% in Q2). In Europe, Germany is in "stagflation" while the rest of the continent has exceeded growth forecasts. Despite interest rate hikes carried out by the majority of central banks, bond markets recorded solid performances in July. Fears of a recession or a major slowdown in the global economy caused the entire US treasury yield curve to fall over the month. The return of investors to risky assets led to a tightening of credit spreads. After a very poor showing for equity markets in the first part of the year, in July the main US and European indices recorded their best monthly performances since November 2020. In the United States, the Nasdaq was up 12.5% while the S&P 500 recorded an increase of 9.3%. It should be noted that the outperformance of the "growth" style compared with the "value" style was concomitant with the decline in bond yields.

Against this backdrop, the fund ended the month up 3.67%. We slightly reduced our equity exposures while carrying out arbitrages. We trimmed our exposure to more Cyclical and Value stocks and, at the same time, strengthened segments with higher visibility such as the European pharmaceutical stocks index and a tracker on the companies most capable of delivering growth dividends in a regular manner.
